

SENSE OF WONDER

TRAINING

CALLING ALL CHILDREN'S PROFESSIONALS

Do you find it difficult to support children with sensory processing difficulties?

Do you struggle with ideas of what to do with sensory equipment?

Do you have trouble knowing how to integrate sensory based activities and ideas when working with children?

We can help with our new Sense of Wonder Training.

Waymaker sessions help professionals in three ways:

1. Train and SUPPORT professionals in learning novel sensory based activities for use in their services
2. Train and SUPPORT professionals on how to implement sensory based activities.
3. Offer SUPPORT to professionals in gaining confidence and assurance to deliver on a crucial part of children's development.

Created by professional Play Therapist Zoe Younger. Zoe has over 10 years' experience working with children across North and South of Ireland. Zoe would love to bring her passion for sensory play and development to every child, starting with working with the professionals who are so important to all children.

"I loved this training; it was great to see all the innovative ideas that I could use to help all my children in the classroom. I plan as a result of this training to make time for sensory based activities to further my classes development."
